
Important information about this form

This Notice of Incident and Claim form must be used by a person who proposes to commence court proceedings in relation to an incident arising out of the condition of EastLink.

If you are considering taking such proceedings, you should complete and return this form to ConnectEast's address as set out overleaf within 30 days of the incident occurring.

This form is set out in five parts:

Part A - provides important information about your rights to obtain compensation and in respect of privacy.

Part B - provides space for you to set out information about the circumstances of the incident.

Part C - provides space for you to set out details of any claim for damages you may wish to make against ConnectEast.

Part D - provides important information about disclosure of information to other organisations.

Part E - is a Statutory Declaration.

If you only wish to report an incident but do not intend to make a claim for damages against ConnectEast, you should contact ConnectEast on 03 9955 1400.

Part A – Important information about your rights

If you suffer personal injury or property damage due to the condition of EastLink or infrastructure on EastLink, you may be entitled to compensation from ConnectEast.

ConnectEast is not liable for loss or damage arising out of all incidents on EastLink. In particular, ConnectEast is unlikely to be liable to pay compensation, in accordance with the relevant legislation such as the provisions of the Road Management Act 2004:

- for tar damage;
- for property damage in an amount less than the threshold amount. The threshold amount is $1,681 for the Financial Year 2025/2026. (Note: Where ConnectEast is liable to pay compensation for property damage, the payment is reduced by the threshold amount. The threshold amount does not apply to damage arising from personal injury or to any claim that may involve a contractor engaged by a road authority); or
- if it has complied with the standards established in any relevant road management plan and other relevant Codes of Practice and policies.

A court may, in any proceeding based on a claim in relation to an incident arising out of the condition of a public road or infrastructure, take a failure to give a notice of incident into account in deciding the weight to be given to evidence about the condition of the road or infrastructure at the time of the incident.

Within 14 days of receiving a Notice of Incident and Claim form, ConnectEast may inspect the road or infrastructure where the reported incident occurred and may prepare a Condition Report. If it does so, a copy of the Condition Report will be sent to the person who reported the incident. A copy of the report is admissible as evidence of the matters specified in the report in any legal proceedings in relation to the incident.

Privacy statement

The information disclosed by you in this Notice of Incident and Claim form may be used to investigate the incident, consider and respond to a claim (including in the course of legal proceedings), to take any necessary remedial action in respect of the road and/or road infrastructure and for the purpose of analysing accidents and planning and implementing road management and safety measures. We may disclose any information you provide to our insurers and advisers, including investigators and legal advisers, and to any other organisation we consider might have responsibility in respect of this incident. Some of the information we ask for is required to be provided under section 115 of the Road Management Act 2004. If the information is not provided we may not be able to consider your claim. You have a right of access to information we collect about you. For further details, view our Privacy Policy at www.eastlink.com.au or contact the Privacy Officer at ConnectEast's address set out overleaf.
